Good afternoon,

In response to Gov. Hogan's stay-at-home order issued today, we wanted to offer the following clarifications to our students:

- Students scheduled to move out of the residence halls today, Monday, March 30, may proceed as planned. However, in compliance with the Governor's stay-at-home order, move out appointments beginning tomorrow, Tuesday, March 31, have been suspended until further guidance is received from System and the Governor's office. Students who have not moved out by the end of today will be contacted by the Residence Life Office. Your belongings will be safeguarded.
- Classes are still continuing online. The campus is in operation, although most campus services have moved online. Those students who have been approved to stay on campus may stay, and those on a meal plan can still pick up meals at Chesapeake.
- Gira 133 is open for those who have no other computer access. Hours may be limited. Watch for future announcements.
- If you need medical assistance, Brady Health is providing telehealth appointments (over the phone) Monday-Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) is providing telecounseling services (over the phone or video) Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. by appointment. Crisis services are available by calling University Police at 301-687-4223. You will be put in touch with a crisis counselor.
- PAWS Pantry will continue to operate for students needing food assistance Mondays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Food will be prepackaged (more information is available in StateLines sent today or the Volunteer Services email sent last Monday). For more information, email PAWSPantry@frostburg.edu or call 301-687-7598 during the hours listed above.
- As always, we encourage you to observe social distancing guidelines, staying six feet away from others whenever you are out (i.e. in grocery stores or on the street.)
